Building a stronger workforce of certified emergency number professionals is key to helping public safety agencies meet their missions. With a team that includes more than 40 certified emergency number professionals, Mission Critical Partners is dedicated to lending our staff's wisdom and expertise to help members of the public safety community further their education level and professional certifications.

Every year, Mission Critical Partners hosts a series of study group sessions to prepare emergency communication specialists for the National Emergency Number Association (NENA) Emergency Number Professional (ENP) certification examination. The eight-session study group, conducted by MCP subject matter experts, is free and available online, however, space is limited, and study groups fill up quickly.

Together, we can improve emergency response outcomes...because the mission matters.
